WUS WEEK CLUB DAY found all types of fund raising concessions scattered around the main lobby of the CUB. Students could buy books or cookies, have a friend thrown in the Spur's jail, try their chances at doubling their money or even to shave a balloon with a safety razor. Gary LaChance was one of the successful balloon shavers in the Pep Club booth. Pep Club members, Amy Young and Shirley Gale, were on hand to help clean up the mess if the balloon should burst.

Committee Sets Election Dates

"Wednesday, Feb. 6, has been set as the deadline date for petitions for the Honor Council election for winter quarter," Shirley Willoughby, election committee chairman announced.

Four positions are to be filed on the Honor Council this quarter, two women and two men. Candidates must have at least a 2.00 grade point and have finished 104 credit hours of college work.

The primary election will be held on Tuesday, Feb. 12, and the general election is scheduled for Tuesday, Feb. 19. The voting will take place in the dining halls and the information booth in the CUB. The off campus students will vote in the CUB, Miss Willoughby reported.

Members of the election committee besides Miss Willoughby are John Struger, Myrna Shaver, Dave Fitzgerald and Shirley Street.

Kappa Delta Pi Committees Set

Frances Richards, acting president of Kappa Delta Pi, has appointed five committees to serve during winter quarter. In addition to these appointments Dennis Martinen has been chosen to serve as acting vice president.

Martinen will have the following people serving on the program committee: Mary Moore, Dr. Funderburk, Miss Anderson and Larry Bowen. Those serving with Shirley Aurstad on the alumni committee are Dr. Miller, Larry Belz, Duncan Manning and Grace Keesling.

Mrs. Richards will be assisted on the membership committee by June Snodgrass, Loree Sliffe, Miss Simpson and Roger Asselstine. Morag Robertson and Gary Oules will serve under Carolyn Todd on the publicity committee. The courtesy committee, headed by Dennis Martinen, will be composed of Marilyn Olberg, Miss White, Dorothy Dunn and Bruce Johnson.

Enrollment Released

Registrar Perry Mitchell announced that the total enrollment at Central Washington College for Winter Quarter is 1688, an all time high for the winter session.

This enrollment is 17 under the record set during Fall Quarter. Last Winter Quarter's total was 190 less than this year.

Flight Training Contract OK'd

The flight training program for 18 senior cadets at Central Washington College of Education was authorized by the Air Force ROTC Headquarters at Maxwell Field, La., this week.

The training program is scheduled to begin sometime early in February.

Dr. Robert E. McConnell, CWCE president, and Lt. Col. Robert Benesh, professor of air science and tactics at Central, said that $7,952 has been approved by the AFROTC to be used in the training of cadets. The cadets will receive 35 hours of dual and solo flight training.

Mid State Aviation of Ellensburg was awarded the contract to train the cadets and the final approval of the contract and allocation of funds followed.

The cadets will receive basic flight training and training in light aircraft for a minimum of 35 hours, according to Benesh. They will also receive training in wind and weather and inspection and up-keep of aircraft. Final check rides at the end of the program will be given by the Civil Aeronautics Administration.

Included in the program also are instructions to insure safe flight through rigid ground procedures. Existing personnel of Central's AFROTC detachment will handle this phase of the training.

Preparations Begin For Religious Emphasis Week; Eight Groups Plan Activities, Publicity, Projects

Preparations for Religious Emphasis Week, to be held February 3-7, are busily being made by several committees. Students and faculty, alike, are devoting time to make this annual activity a success and worthwhile experience.

The publicity committee is presently engaged in publicizing this event. Under the chairmanship of Barbara Conrad, committee members include Sylvia Ritchey, Bob Sullivan, Ed Woodiwiss, Sharon Madglin, Rosemary Thomas, Larry George, and Marvin Kastning. They are planning a display for the SGA bulletin board. Plans are also being made to post the events of the day in the CUB.

Other features designed to publicize REW include individual bookmarkers which will be placed in the students' mail boxes, spot announcements on KXLE and articles in the Ellensburg Record.

CWCE's Needs Aired By Group

Tuesday evening in the College Elementary School Auditorium, between 30 and 40 students and faculty members met with Dr. Robert E. McConnell to discuss what the students and faculty can do to help the college secure the needed budget for the coming biennium.

Dr. McConnell went over the budget requests for 1957-59 item by item and answered the questions that were asked by the group. The total budget request for the next biennium is approximately 6.8 million dollars.

It was pointed out that it is important that the representatives and senators in Olympia know our needs and that we really need the money to build several new buildings on campus. The best way that this can be done is if the students and their parents will write their district legislators and inform them of Central's needs.

Arrangements are being made with the local ministers and priests for support of this event during church services. Advisor for the publicity committee is Miss Ramona Solberg.

Iris Marinsic, chairman of the book display committee, announced that her committee is planning a book sale in the CUB, and a display in the library. Committee members include Jean Lundberg, Judy Morical, Barbara Wietz, Nancy Debar, Betty Sanderson, and Kathy Carstairs. John W. Fuller is advisor.

One of the many highlights of the week will be the various dorm firesides which are being planned by Brian Gerards and his committee. Students are encouraged to attend the firesides and discuss the topics which interest them. A particular speaker will be assigned to the dorm. Advisor for this committee is Dr. G. Russell Ross.

The purpose of the classroom committee is to schedule all classroom speakers and topics. Barbara Harpster, Kathy Carstairs, James Krockman, and Dan Vesey are presently contacting faculty members and supplying them with a list of speakers and their background from which to choose, if they desire.

Greet Dad With Howdy

"Howdy, partner, come and sit a spell" will be the password to this year's Dad's Day festivities held February 15, 16, and 17. John Draper, chairman of the Dad's Day Committee announced that the theme will be "Western Informality."

In accordance with this theme sports shirts and slacks are the order of attire for the well-dressed dad.

"By this time invitations to Dad's Weekend have been sent out to the fathers of all Centralites. Although the SGA has mailed these formal invitations to the dads, students are strongly urged to do their part to help make this event a big success by personally inviting their dads," Draper said.

Alumnae Auxiliary Scholarship Established By Women Students

Announcement of a new annual scholarship to be awarded by Central's Women Students Alumnae Auxiliary, was made by Laura Williams, secretary-treasurer of the group. Plans for the scholarship were revealed at the January meeting of Central's Women Students in the College Elementary School social rooms.

The scholarship, according to Mrs. Williams, will be awarded annually to one or more of the club's members currently enrolled as a student at Central. Recipients will be selected by the college scholarship committee on the basis of written application or written recommendations from members of the faculty, club or auxiliary. Applications must be sent to the chairman of the CWCE Scholarship Committee by February 1 of each year.

The award will be granted upon enrollment at the beginning of a speaker for their regular classes. Attendance at these classes will not be required. Don Robertson is chairman, and Mrs. Nerene Whitner, housemother at Carmody, is advisor.

Jerry Yeager and Sonja Zamzow, co-chairmen of the assemblies committee, and Marilyn Scheda, Betty Sanderson, and Phil Poppleton, are engaged in preparation for the kick-off assembly, to be held February 3, at 8 p.m. The Central Singers are scheduled to sing and a speaker will be featured. The weekly Thursday assembly will consist of a talk by the visiting Rabbi. Dr. Samuel R. Mohler is acting in the capacity of advisor for this committee.

Personal conferences between speakers and students are being arranged by the personal conference committee under the chairmanship of Josie Jordan. Posters are currently being made by committee members, Mary Wippel, Marietta Hora, and Charlie Saas,

Plans Formulate For English Club

Organization of an English club was the topic of a meeting attended by 23 English majors and minors in the faculty lounge January 17.

Vera Levesconte presided at the meeting where a proposed constitution was placed before the group for consideration and a nomination board was appointed to nominate officers.

Names placed in nomination by the board for the office of president were Alan Goodell and Miss Levesconte. Sharon Oswalt and Mike Austin were nominated for vice president. Nominees for secretary - treasurer were Roberta Caldwell, Barbara Weller and Marilyn Hauck.

The new organization is open to students who have majors or minors in English or journalism.

Faculty members attending the initial meeting of the English club were Dr. Catharine Bullard, Dr. Herbert Anshutz and Dr. Keith Rinehart.

spring quarter. It will be given to the most deserving candidate on the basis of professional promise and financial need. For the present the scholarship is to be $35.

"This heartwarming program is the natural outgrowth of the real fellowship we have enjoyed on the campus," Mrs. Williams said.

The CWSAA committee includes Opal Price of Snohomish, Eunice Steele of Wenatchee and Bonita Thompson of Thorp, who is president of the alumnae group.

Time for a Change

The state of Washington is missing the boat in at least one area of its education program—the teacher education curriculum. There are teachers in this state teaching mathematics who have not had any mathematics since they took ninth grade general mathematics in high school.

A knowledge of mathematics is one of our most important assets in our modern civilization. How do we expect the youth of this state to meet the challenges of everyday life without a proper background in the use of weights and measurements, our monetary system and numbers? To understand all of these things they need to know how to use numbers. If the teacher does not understand the basic principles of the Arabic number system, how will he be able to explain this important process to the children in his classroom?

To qualify for a BA in Education, we must take survey courses in art, music, physical and biological science, the social sciences and home economics. This is a very good idea. It gives us a broad background of experience which a classroom teacher must have. But where does mathematics enter into this teach education curriculum?

The closest we get to a mathematics course is the survey of physical science class. But how will knowing how to find the focal length of a camera help a future teacher show a seventh grade class how to multiply unlike common fractions or an eighth grade class how to find a number when a certain percent of it is given?

Sometime in the near future a general mathematics course should be added to the teacher education curriculum requirements in the state of Washington. This course should be a review of all the mathematics that is taught from the first through ninth grades. That is the least we can do to give the next generation a way to meet the challenges of everyday life.

Students Can Help Secure Needed CWC Budget Funds

By JACK LYBYER
SGA PRESIDENT

Tuesday evening there was a meeting in the College Elementary School Auditorium concerning the legislative appropriations for Central Washington College during the next biennium. Some of you might ask how does this concern the students.

We are all students of this college and the enlargement of its facilities and faculty gives us a better chance to broaden our education. Also the majority of us will be here during these next two years.

Is it the responsibility of the administration alone to fight for our appropriations? They may know more about the directing of the pressures and energies needed, but there are some 1,70 students who may be able to also help.

Many of you may know people of influence or people in important positions, such as district representatives or state senators, who can help us secure our needed budget for the next two years. If these people are contacted at the right time by the right persons, our chances of receiving the appropriations will be greatly improved.

If you have been reading the daily newspapers, you probably know that ex-governor Langlie suggested a budget which was just about half the amount that the administration is asking for. Langlie's budget did not include appropriations for any new buildings, but he did encourage the purchase of more land for the college.

Considering the size of most of the classes now and that there are several periods of the day in which every classroom on campus is being utilized, what will the result be if we do not receive any money for a building program? Can we or should

New Promotions Awarded Cadets

Ten advanced cadets and four basics have been given advancements in rank in the second promotion order of winter quarter issued by the Commandant of Cadets, Captain William V. Williams.

Basics promoted included Cadet S-Sgt. Kenneth J. Tauscher to Cadet, T-Sgt., Cadet A-2c Nathan H. Olney to Cadet A-1c, Cadets A-3c Michael G. Austin and Aileen E. Esping to Cadet A-2c, and Cadet A-B Richard O. Vennetti to Cadet A-3c.

we turn students, hungry for knowledge, away from our institution just because we do not have room to house or educate them?

In 1947 the Masters and BA in Arts and Science degrees were added to the degrees that Central can award, largely due to the efforts of the students. We can do the same now to help Sweezy and the many future students, by supporting the student-faculty group that has been organized to help the administration secure our needed funds.

Student Housing Inadequate For Increasing Enrollment

Central has students from all parts of the state in residence. In order to provide housing for these students, it has been necessary to erect 7 dormitories, add to one existing dormitory and build two dining halls in the past 10 years. Verville and various houses and apartments have also been purchased to supply housekeeping quarters.

Some of this housing, which is temporary in nature, will soon have to be replaced. At present Central is providing housing for 1,024 students. All available college housing is being used; hence, dormitories will need to be built at a rate of at least one each year for several years if the college is to house additional enrollment.

In order to meet this continuing demand for housing, the Board of Trustees of the college plans to borrow additional money through the sale of bonds and build the necessary living quarters as rapidly as possible.

Further increases in student fees and living costs will, no doubt, be necessary in order to finance such bond issues. In the meantime efforts will be made to secure additional off-campus housing in order to take care of the greater number of students anticipated for 1957-1958.

Honor Council

Seven Students Dealt Sentences

The Honor Council gave seven students suspended probation sentences for their part in the forging of registration cards during the winter quarter registration.

On January 15, after discussing the case and weighing all of the pros and cons, the Honor Council placed one student on suspended probation until April 1.

The other six were tried on January 22 and placed on suspended probation until April 7.

A suspended sentence, as defined by the Honor Council Code, is: A method by which a sentence of restriction termed probation is deferred until such occasion that the person sentenced be brought before the Honor Council for a second time for a serious offense. (To be determined by the Honor Council).

At which time he (the accused) will be automatically placed on probation unless his previous conduct merits that more drastic steps be taken. The stiffer sentence to be determined by the Honor Council.

SGA Council

Election Change Planned By SGA Council Members

Primary elections are a necessity for the student government elections on the Central Washington College campus, the SGA council decided at its Monday evening meeting.

The council decided that primary elections will be held for both the winter quarter Honor Council election and the spring quarter SGA general election. These primary elections are to be held a week or two before the general election.

"The primary election will be used for only those offices or positions in which there are three or more candidates," Shirley Willoughby, SGA secretary and chairman of the election committee, said.

A discussion of the legislative appropriation for Central during the next biennium was held by the council members and several visitors. SGA president Jack Lybyer, told the council about the student-faculty committee that has been formed to help the administration in their campaign to gain the needed funds.

Miss Willoughby also announced that the election for the four new Honor Council members has been set for Tuesday, February 19. Two men and two women are to be picked as new Honor Council members during this election.

The science club constitution was approved by the council with the revision that it be revised a little more in the near future.

In other business the council referred the problem of clubs and

Budget Limitations Exceed Need; Faculty Members Have Overloads

Teaching and administrative staff needs at Central Washington College currently far exceed present budget limitations. Enrollment increases over the past three years have been instrumental in bringing about this shortage.

Because of the unusual increase in enrollment this fall, the 109 faculty members have been handling excessive overloads. Faculty compensations must be increased as well as added staff to care for this overload problem.

Sources of competition make the problem even more acute because of the difficulty in securing teaching faculty with desirable training and experience. The situation salarywise at CWCE is such that the faculty members are being lost to other colleges with more attractive salaries, public schools offering earlier advancement and business and industry that offers much better advancement.

The budget request for CWCE for the next biennium requests 31 more faculty members to meet the immediate need in addition to salary increases for present faculty members. When compared with similar institutions in various other states and with the University of Washington and Washington State College, faculty salaries at CWCE are considerably less.

This year CWCE has asked the legislature for $3,603,233 for salaries and operational costs. This amount would provide an average increase of about 20 percent in faculty and staff salaries. However, in the report from the budget submitted to former Governor Arthur B. Langlie this item was cut.

Until the officials at CWCE learn where the cut was made, there can be no further information on this phase of the budget. Included in the budget was an item that would encourage teachers to come to our school because of a better organizations being asked to pay $10 to have their pictures in the Hyakem to the Publications Board and instructed the SGA secretary to write a letter to Walt Barnard asking him if he will serve as chairman of the International Student Relations Seminar, which will be held at Central on March 29-31.

Jerry Yeager, Kennedy Hall representative, gave the council a report from the Honor System committee. The committee prepared a letter listing some Honor System suggestions which the council is sending to the faculty at its next meeting.

Wayne Hisserman, SGA social commissioner, said that the SGA movies for this weekend have been changed. "Helen of Troy" will be shown tonight and "Left Hand of God," will be shown tomorrow night.

retirement system for faculty members.

Under the new system it would be advantageous for the colleges to belong to this system as it is necessary to recruit faculty from many states. The present retirement system is designed primarily for teachers within a single state.

As the volume of business contracted by added enrollment grows so must the administrative staffs, maintenance men, office workers as well as faculty. There is no assurance these people can be secured. It must be realized that salaries for all employees must meet current competition.

Two Dances Wind Up WUS Week

An all-college dance tonight in the gym and a formal dance in Sue Lombard's west lounge Saturday night will wind up the WUS week activities according to Vic Olson and Peggy Watts, co-chairman.

Tuesday campus clubs used the CUB for display booths which were lined up along the walls in the foyer. Over fifteen groups took part in displaying students' stunts, wares and talents for sale. Young Democrats offered the students a chance to double their money in a penny toss while a Sheriff Sale using lost and found articles was sponsored by members of I.R.C.

Pep Club used balloons, shaving cream and a razor to challenge any student wishing to take a chance on having a steady enough hand to shave the balloon clean.

Wednesday evening a mixer featuring live music was offered to the students.

Central's faculty joined the students in raising money for the World University Service by donating its time. Ironing saved by the students put in an appearance at the booth where faculty members were waiting to press clothing. A shoe shine stand and a bake sale were operated by instructors also.

Thursday evening a student faculty talent show was organized under the direction of Dorothy Heinel and Alden Esping. The program ranged from pantomime to musical numbers by the faculty.

Rec Club Plans Coming Meetings

Recreation Club, a club for recreation majors and minors and physical education majors and minors, met Thursday, January 10, to discuss plans for coming meetings. This club helps the students find jobs by writing letters of application and finding out about the scholarships offered for students entering such professions.

President of the Recreation Club is Hugh Glover. Other officers are Dick Wilson, vice-president; Ernie Thies and George Osborne, social commissioners; Marilyn Mannie, secretary, and Bev Crumpacker, treasurer.

Honor Council Election Slated

On February 12 elections will be held for four new Honor Council members, two men and two women.

"The importance of electing good, qualified representatives cannot be over emphasized," Ron Frye, Honor Council chairman stressed.

Honor Council, the highest student judicial body of Central Washington College, was established to maintain the code of conduct prescribed by the SGA Constitution.

The council urges the students to think carefully and nominate representatives of superior character who will act fairly with tolerance and respect for others' rights. Good and accurate judgment, courage of conviction, and a keen sense of responsibility are necessities if the new council is to function effectively.

Nominees are presented by a petition of at least 20 students' signatures. Each nominee must have completed 104 credit hours with a cumulative grade point of more than 2.00. The term of service is three quarters. The remaining old council members will be replaced in the SGA elections spring quarter.

Central's biennium budget request is 6.8 million dollars.

Church News

Bishop Speaks At Club Meeting

Bud Richardson will show colored slides on his travels through Europe at this Sunday evening's Canterbury Association meeting in the Episcopal Church Parish Hall. Richardson took these pictures while he was in the Army.

Last Sunday the Canterbury Association met at the John Moser home for a short meeting, dinner and a talk by the Rt. Rev. Russell S. Hubbard D.D., bishop of the Spokane diocese. Bishop Hubbard was in Ellensburg for Confirmation on Sunday.

"The Canterbury Association meets every Sunday evening at 6:30 in the Parish Hall for a short business meeting, dinner and some type of a discussion or entertainment," Ted Gumeson, Canterbury Association president said.

"We invite all Central students to our meetings regardless of their church affiliations," Sandy Solbakken, Canterbury Association secretary said. "If we would like to know anything about the Canterbury Association, please feel free to contact Bud, Ted or me," she added.

Newman Club

On Sunday, January 27, Newman Club will have a Communion dinner after the 7 p.m. mass in Maryland Hall. The donation for the spaghetti dinner will be 50 cents.

Have you been enjoying the music in the campus chow halls this quarter? This arrangement was originally inspired by a student, Miss Gaynell Johnsen, dietitian, took the idea to the administration and it was acted upon during Christmas vacation.

The public address system was installed at a cost of $1,294. This cost was considered as part of the cost of the food service and was paid for out of the fee the students pay for board.

The equipment was purchased from the Northern School Supply Company of Spokane and installed by Phil Schaub of Yakima.

CENTRAL'S BOOKSTORE IS ONE of the busiest places on campus during the first two weeks of each quarter. Students can buy books and other materials for classes, clothes, confectionery, stuffed animals, greeting cards and several hundred other items at this handy spot on the Central campus. Profits from the bookstore go into the scholarship fund.

Bookstore Buds, Blossoms Into Blooming Business

By JUNE HANSON

In seven short years, Central's bookstore has blossomed from a tiny operation in the present registrar's office into a place of super-market proportions.

Seven years ago, the bookstore was a crowded, cluttered establishment with a relatively small stock. Two years later, the registrar's office outgrew the faculty post office and moved into the bookstore, which had to find a new home. Stock was hauled over to the CUB, and the store set up business in what is now the snack bar.

Mrs. Louise Oien, the bookstore's capable manager, recalls with pleasure the move into the brand new brick structure just eighteen months ago. Mrs. Oien came to Central when the store was still in the administration building as assistant manager. Six months later she was appointed manager.

"I enjoy being with students, and this is really a pleasant place to work in," says Mrs. Oien.

New jewelry, a wide selection of cards and gift items, and the complete College Outline Series are latest arrivals in the store. Everything from giant pandas to blue books to tennis balls is in stock.

The store's self-service feature is greatly appreciated by Mrs. Oien and her staff, and they report it seems popular with students. In the old days, there was not even enough room to display half the items on hand, and students never dreamed the bookstore carried many of the things.

Biggest sales item at the store is, of course, textbooks. Thousands are in stock and more are ordered each quarter. Winter quarter book lists are out, reports Mrs. Oien, and many of the texts were available before Christmas recess.

A feature of the store's operation is a new Kinglsey stamping machine, enabling the bookstore to guarantee one day service on gold embossing. Wallets, books and briefcases can all be stamped with the owner's name, reminds Mrs. Oien.

Although the bookstore functions smoothly and effectively, the management is greatly interested in student suggestions. Centralites education facilities, the need for a new ROTC building and a new business education building, repairs to existing building, the need for 30 more professors and a raise in wages is needed for the present CWCE staff, were some of the problems discussed by the group.

The students are organizing in the dorms to make sure that every student on campus can get a chance to help his or her college get its needed buildings. These students have secured lists of students who are in a position to contact their district legislators if and when the need arises.

It was also brought out that with the increase in enrollment and the probable increase in the next few years, that Central may have to turn some future students away from its doors due to a lack of space if we do not build some new building in the very near future.

Old Trojan Horse On CWC Campus

Tonight's movie is the 118 minute production, "Helen of Troy," which will be presented in both cinemascope and color. This story of the most beautiful woman in the world and the strife she brought about between the ancient states of Sparta and Troy, stars Rossana Podesta, Jack Sernas and Sir Cedric Hardwicke.

Highlights of the movie include the legendary Trojan Horse and the battle between Achilles and Hector. This Warner Brothers production is based on a book written by Homer.

An all-star cast including the late Humphrey Bogart, Gene Tierney and Lee J. Cobb will be featured in Saturday's dime movie, "The Left Hand of God."

This movie which is based on the controversial best-seller of the same name, tells of the escape of a flyer-adventurer from a Chinese warlord. Portrayed in color and cinemascope, this movie has been produced in all its excellence to give audiences a thrilling entertainment experience, it is reported by 20th Century-Fox.

Mimeographed sheets will also be distributed to the students' boxes containing this information. All arrangements will be strictly confidential. Dr. Kenneth V. Lundberg is advisor of the group.

A breakfast and retreat at the Lazy F Ranch for all committee members and guest speakers is being planned by Geraldine Rieck and her committee. Members include Irene Cich, Bonnie Munz, Dorothy Heintz, Jean Lundberg, Marg Hedman, Dave Tros-

Smith Constructs Slanted Building For 'Door Step' Stage Setting

By DOROTHY McPHILLIPS

"Stage setting for the all college dramatic production of 'The Great Big Door Step,' began long before Christmas vacation," Milo Smith, instructor of speech and drama said.

Smith director of the forthcoming production began making sketches of the ramshackled building in front of which would be placed the magnificent door step.

After assembling scraps of boards and planks, he began working on the actual building. One effort of great extent made the side of the building curve at just the right angle to give a more haphazard effect. Mr. Smith viewed the results with satisfaction and went home for Christmas vacation.

Normal Howell, associate director of speech and drama, arrived ky, and Wes Boardman. Advisor is Miss Jeannette H. Ware. They are also planning and co-ordinating a progressive dinner.

The arrangements committee under the co-chairmanship of Cherie Winney, and Huberta Peacock, are assisting the other committees by securing the necessary supplies needed for their work. Jean Hobbs and Monte Wilson are members.

"The purpose of REW in general is to open the area of religion as an area of study just as any other field is open to study. 'The Fourth R' is attempting to do just this by presenting speakers from different phases of religious work so that the student may hear new viewpoints and re-evaluate his beliefs. My only regret is that this is an affair of only one week, where, if a student is to have a meaningful religion, he should be re-evaluating incessantly," Peggy Sharpe, student advisor, said.

(ACP) "Universities are full of knowledge; the freshmen bring a little in and the seniors take none away, and knowledge accumulates."

Committees Set For Military Ball

Plans are underway for the annual Military Ball which is to be held Saturday, March 2. The Arnold Air Society has set up its committees so that work may begin immediately.

The committee heads are Marty Budzuis, program; Santos Pantoja, tickets; Dave Scarce, refreshments; Joe Batali, decorations; Dave Carnahan, corsages; Jim Selig, publicity; and Don Fujimoto, band.

The place tentatively set for the dance is the Commons, according to Joe Batali, general chairman.

Religious Emphasis Week begins on Sunday, Feb. 3.

Central Women Elect Officers

Election of officers was the main order of business at the recent regular meeting of Central's Women Students held at the home of Mrs. Laura Williams, an alumnae of the group.

Miss Betty Schultz was elected president last spring and working with her during the year ahead will be Dorothy McPhillips, vice-pres. and Barbara Smith, sec-treas.

At the conclusion of the business, Ruth Edson described her experiences at a Little White House conference on schools which was held in Montana last year.

Author Discusses Space Flights

Arthur C. Clarke, British author and scientist, will explain to Central students how space flights may take place within their lifetimes, at the 11 a.m. assembly, Thursday, January 31.

Clarke believes that by 1970 man-carrying satellites will start circling the earth. After this is accomplished, he believes the first expedition to the moon will take place within a short period of time.

Clarke has published fifteen books and more than a hundred stories and articles appearing in leading magazines and scientific papers. Among his books, which so far have sold over a million copies, are "Childhood's End," "Prelude to Space," "Expedition to Earth," "Interplanetary Flight" and "The City and the Stars."

Reorganization Planned

A reorganization of Central's Campus CUB Coffee and Coke Club was announced this week.

Presently the four members are in the process of selecting a slate of candidates who fit the high requirements for membership.

Interested students are asked to write the directors at box 931, CWCE. The group is planning on discussing the spring SGA elections at their next meeting.

Curious Phenomenon, Coed

Her Likes and Dislikes

(ACP) — Between the innocence of bobby sox and the sophistication of mink there lies a curious, carefree creature called a coed. Coeds come equipped with assorted pedal pushers and hairdos, but they all uphold the same creed:

To enjoy every minute of every hour of every college day.

Teachers fluster them, mothers protect them, little sisters idolize them, and boys worship them.

They can be found in all places; lounging on, draping around, leaning against, bustling to, and tramping from. She is pride with a pony tail, nonchalance with a note book, optimism with an overcoat, and the prettiest of womanhood in wool.

A coed is a curious mixture. She has the eating habits of a canary and displays the energy of a mountain trout. To her admirers she has the mind of Einstein, the looks of Kim, the personality of Grace, and the figure of Marilyn. To the other coeds, she has the form of a beer bottle, the personality of a wet mackerel, and the mind of a beetle.

She leads a martyr's life. No one else could stand time limits on telephone calls, the frustration of stolen bobbypins, and the pain of waiting for a date.

The coed loves weekends, formal dances, cashmere sweaters, red convertibles and men.

She doesn't like 8 o'clock classes, Monday mornings and deadlines on English themes. No one else derives more sheer pleasure from an extra hour of sleep on misty mornings, or from a new record.

No one else can pack into 24 hours, five classes, two hours study, three coffee breaks, a full length movie, and eight hours sleep.

The coed is here to stay with all her curiosities. She may remain a bobby soxer or attain the dignity of mink, but in between she is still that curious phenomenon . . . a coed.

Member Drive Planned by FTA

"Membership in the local chapter of the Future Teachers of America will be open until February 5," Paul Lambertsen, FTA president, announced. Dues for the remainder of the year will be $4. This membership includes dues in Washington Education Association, and local and state FTA.

Students becoming members of FTA will be entitled to attend conferences on the state level as well as all local meetings. Winter and spring quarter conferences are being held.

The winter conference will be at Whitworth College in Spokane during the first week in March. The Washington State Future Teachers of America annual convention will be held at Central during the spring quarter.

Regular FTA meetings are held the first and third Tuesday of each month. Membership dues may be paid at the meetings or to Lambertsen, Box 391; Dave Perkins, Box 705 or Larry Bowen, Box 354.

New Organization Elects Shiroma

The newly organized Cosmopolitan Club, composed of international and stateside students attending Central, recently elected its officers.

They are President, Dennis Shiroma of Hawaii; Vice-President, Yuh Wha Leu, from Formosa, and Secretary - Treasurer, Nancy Lind of Ellensburg.

Membership is by invitation from the international students which include Chi Yung Ching and Miss Mei Chen Lin from Formosa; Robert Repousis of Greece, Miss Manida Pittichotti from Thailand, Mr. and Mrs. Don Fujimoto of Honolulu, Shiroma and Leu.

Students invited to represent continental United States are as follows; Shirley Willoughby, Cherie Willoughby, Cherrie Winney, Don Robertson, Pat Short, Bill Leth, Jim Nance and Miss Lind.

"The purpose of the club is to foster friendship and fellowship between stateside and international students, to make foreign students feel at home away from home, to exchange ideas and viewpoints on different cultures and to learn and practice American customs in order to give foreign students an opportunity to assume leadership," Shiroma said.

At present the club is involved with the selection of an advisor.

Music Organization Forms, Elects Officers

The student chapter of the Music Educator's National Conference was reorganized recently and the new officers for the year include Larry Belz, president; Jerry McManus, vice president; and June Snodgrass, secretary.

The chapter plans monthly meetings with varied programs. Some of the tentative plans for programs include outside speakers, and discussions on such subjects as setting up a music library, standard literature for instrumental and choral groups, how to plan a budget, ordering music, and creating an interest in music.

Coaches Corner: Nicholson In 28th Season At Central

By ERROL TEMPLER

While all eyes are on the Central hoopsters who are fighting hard for the Evergreen Conference championship, let's take a look at the man instrumental in the success of the Wildcats this season and in seasons gone by.

This man, Leo Nicholson, has been coaching at Central for 28 years. During this time he has compiled an amazing record of 416 wins and only 185 losses. He had also guided the Wildcats to eight conference championships and could possibly do the trick again this season.

"Nick," as he is known by his friends, has one of the best-lifetime coaching records in the Northwest. This season he recorded his 500th victory with only 190 reversals for an average of about 72 percent. In national ratings this would place him in the top 20 of the winningest coaches. His percent of games won would put him in the top 10 across the nation.

Nicholson was born in Eugene, Ore., and attended elementary school in Portland. He went to Yakima High School his freshman year, and then transferred to Heppner High School in Heppner, Ore. At Heppner he was a three year letterman in three sports.

Nick entered the Law School at the University of Washington in 1919. He played three years of varsity basketball while at the University. Nicholson graduated from the University with a law degree in 1925, but it was hard to get started in law right then so Nick decided to coach for a year or two. He went to Bothell High School, near Seattle, and started to coach and teach.

In four years at Bothell his basketball teams won 91 and lost 9. Only one of the losses was a conference game, and in 1927 his team won the Washington State Class A Basketball Championship. This same team represented Washington at the National High School Basketball Tournament in Chicago. His football teams won three conference titles over the four year period.

Nicholson came to Central in 1929 as assistant basketball coach. He has coached the basketball teams every year since the 1929-30 season. He was also head football coach from 1930-40, and his teams took four championships.

Of all the coaches Nick has helped get started one of the most successful is his own son, Dean, who is head basketball and baseball coach at Puyallup. During his six years at Puyallup Dean's basketball teams have not finished lower than second in the Puget Sound League.

Nicholson has produced seven football champions in his 15 years of coaching on the grid-iron, three prep champs and four at Central. In basketball he has four prep champs, one state high school championship team, nine championship teams at Central and one quarter finalist.

Nick is more than just a coach at Central for he is chairman of the Health and Physical Education Department as well as serving as the Athletic Director. He is also chairman of the District No. 1 NATA.

COACH LEO NICHOLSON GIVES pointers to his two starting guards, Wally Brudvik, left, and Bill Kiehn, right, during a practice session Tuesday afternoon. The Cats are working toward an eight-game schedule which will lead to another PLC contest as its conclusion. The Central squad will be at Vancouver, B.C., tonight to play the UBC Thunderbirds, then meet the Western Washington College Vikings at Bellingham tomorrow night. The Cats are presently in second place with a 3-1 conference record, with wins against Whitworth, Eastern, and CPS to their credit, and a single loss to PLC.

Eligibility:

1. All players must be enrolled in CWCE.
2. Participants must not be playing varsity basketball.
3. Participants must not be playing city league basketball.
4. Player's name must be on the team roster by the first game schedule.

Schedule:

1. The schedule will be posted on the MIA bulletin board in the CUB on Friday of each week for the next week of play.
2. All games will be played at the scheduled times.

Game Time:

1. The game will start at five minutes past the scheduled hour.

Playing Period:

1. The game will consist of two periods, 20 minutes each, during which the clock remains running.
2. There will be five minutes between halves.

Time Outs:

1. Each team will have three time outs per half.
2. The clock will remain running during time outs, with the exception of the last five minutes, during which the clock will be stopped for time outs.
3. Each time out will be for a period of one minute.

Players and Substitutes:

1. A team must have at least five players to start the game.
2. Substitutions will be made only at time outs, jump balls, or foul shots.
3. Players will be sent in by the scorekeeper after reporting to him.

Ground Rules:

1. There will be no ten-second line.
2. The ball is out of bounds when it hits the ceiling.
3. The ball is out of bounds when it hits the side of a backboard.

Forfeits:

1. A game shall be forfeited if a team is not able to start by 10 minutes past the hour.
2. If neither team has five players the team with the most players wins. If both teams have the same number of players the winner will be decided by the toss of a coin.

Ties:

1. If the score is tied at the end of the second half, play shall continue without the change of baskets after a one minute intermission.
2. The first overtime will be a three minute period; if the score is tied at the end of this the game will be played off by sudden death.

Other Rules:

1. All other rules are covered in the NCAA Basketball Rule Book.

Girls Off For Sunnyside; Will Demonstrate Skills

Five girls from Central Washington College of Education will be at Sunnyside tomorrow for a basketball clinic. The girls from Central will take part in demonstrations of girls' basketball, including skills, types of fouls, and general rules for refereeing.

Representing CWCE will be Helen Argus, Beverly Farmer, Carol Garinger, Marjorie Benton, and Bonnie Arneberg.

On the local girls' sports scene, the Central gals are practicing for a Basketball Sports Day which will be held at the University of Washington in Seattle on February 15 and 16. CWCE's girl athletes traditionally take part in these sports days and have been practicing twice a week for the coming event.

The intramural basketball games between dormitories have just moved under way, with two rounds completed and no definite places or leaders yet determined in the tournament. Any girls who would like to participate in the tournament are welcome, according to the WRA.

The worst season that a Central Washington basketball team has ever suffered was in 1951, when the Wildcats won only 8 games and lost 18.

Cats Move North In Quest Of Two Conference Wins

This weekend the Central Washington Wildcats will attempt to get back on the winning trail as they meet the Western Washington Vikings tonight at Bellingham and UBC tomorrow night in Vancouver, B.C.

Last week's untimely loss to PLC dropped the Cats into second place in the conference standings with a 3-1 mark. Central will get another chance, however, to square the count later on in the season.

Last Saturday night UBC defeated the Vikings in an overtime contest to gain a split in a two game series. Both teams have only one win. The Birds are inexperienced with very few returning letterman. UBC leads the conference in defense, but is also the lowest scoring team with an average of 46.1 points per game.

The Vikings depend mostly upon hustle and determination because of their lack of height and experience. Western has one of the shortest teams in the conference. Scoring is another problem that confronts the Vikings as they have no one individual capable of scoring a great amount of points.

Central has shown good strength on the boards and their shooting has been steadily improving. Although both games will be played on enemy courts, the Cats are favored in both contests.

Coach Leo Nicholson will probably go along with the regular starting lineup of Joe Kominski and Stu Hanson at the forwards, Bill Coordes, who has tallied 201 points in 14 games, at center, and Wally Brudvik and Bill Kiehn at the guard spots.

PLC Gladiators Edge Cats; Second Half Rally Gives Win

Central Washington's Evergreen Conference victory express was derailed temporarily last Friday night by the Pacific Lutheran Gladiators after its engineer—Joe Kominski—fouled out with eight minutes to go. The final score was 61-53.

The Gladiators rode into Friday's action on a thirteen game winning streak and, with the added advantage of playing in home territory, were installed as heavy favorites. But Coach Leo Nicholson had the Wildcats up for this one and they gave the partisan crowd at Parkland some bad moments before the final gun sounded. The game was closer than the score indicated, as the Lutes pulled out in front in the closing minutes.

The Cats boomed off from the opening tip off with a weaving offense and a tight man-to-man defense that startled the Lutheran five and, with Kominski and Coordes grabbing rebounds, slipped into a 30-28 halftime lead.

But Pacific Lutheran Coach Marv Harshman sent the Gladiators out for the second half with fire in their eyes and Chuck Curtis on their roster. Curtis, a former Richland High School ace, tallied 21 points and horded most of the rebounds after Kominski left the game.

With 15 minutes to play the Cats had a 41-34 lead but the Lutes hit for twelve straight points and were never headed from that point on. With less than four minutes remaining Central closed the gap to 51-49 but Kelderman, Iverson, and Curtis shot the Tacoma quintet back into a comfortable margin, and there they stayed until the final gun.

Faculty Members Form Intramural Bowling League

Faculty members at Central Washington College are not being left out of the intramural sports program during winter quarter—they have organized an intramural faculty bowling league.

Six teams are entered in the league, with various departments banding together to form individual teams. Four to six members make up each squad, and the teams roll at 4:00 p.m. at the downtown bowling alley each Monday afternoon.

Currently setting the pace in the league is the Physical Education department, which sports a 9-3 won-loss record. In second place is the ROTC department, 7-5; followed by the Science department, 6-6; Education department, 5½-6½; Administration department, 4½-7½; and Social Science department, 4-8.

Leading all bowlers with a season's average of 166 is Bud Tarrant, followed closely by Dr. William Newschwander with a 163 average. Others with averages above 150 include Ed Rogel, 158; Art Ladd, 155; Dean Stinson, 154; and Dr. Robert McConnell, 150.

Dr. Newschwander leads the pack with both the highest series and highest single game so far this season. He rolled a 587 series and a 242 game in the same series to top all other contestants up to now.

Sportrait: Brudvik Drives, Jumps For Points

One of the smaller members of the Central Wildcat basketball team is high-scoring Wally Brudvik, who stands only 5' 8". Brudvik, who moved into a starting spot only a few games ago, is now second in Wildcat scoring for conference tilts. His jump and driving shots have made him one of Central's flashiest hoopsters.

Twenty-four years ago Wally was born in Bottineau, North Dakota. When he was four years old he moved to Aberdeen, Washington, where he grew up and eventually played varsity basketball for the local high school. Because he was young and rather short, Wally did not play until he was a junior, but in the two years that Wally did play for Aberdeen, the Bobcats reached the Class A State Tournament, where they placed fourth and third, respectively, in 1949 and 1950.

Upon graduating from high school, Wally traveled to Grays Harbor JC and played basketball there during 1950-51. The next year he played varsity ball at St. Martin's college, which is located in Lacey, Washington.

The traveling hoopster then joined the Navy, working as a mechanic in the Seabees. Wally played four years of service ball while seeing the Philippines, Hong Kong,

Wally Brudvik

China, Alaska, and California. Last year he was selected on the All-11th Naval District team.

Wally, who possesses fine jump and set shots, is in his junior year and plans to finish his college education here at Central next year, to the pleasure of many Central fans. Wally stated that "We have shown much improvement since the beginning of the season and if we keep progressing we should have an impressive record at the end of the season."

Wally was married last July and his wife's name is Lois. He is working for a BA degree in Physical Education.

PERK'S
PATTER

By
Dave Perkins
Sports Editor

The Wildcats lost a heartbreaker last Thursday night but things still aren't as gloomy as they may seem. If the Central boys can come through in the next seven games they'll have another crack at the top on February 21, and this time on the home court.

Those next seven games won't be the smoothest sailing, to be sure, since five of them are away from home and the Cats will be under the added pressure of knowing that even one defeat could spell the end for their championship hopes.

However, one cannot forget the magnificent battle the Central squad put up against PLC last Thursday night . . . they showed that they had all the power and spirit needed by any ball club.

Let's get those coming seven, Wildcats, and then we'll show PLC's Gladiators the hottest game they've had all year.

The vast array of problems confronting the Men's Intramural Association's program for basketball this quarter has once more brought to light many of the shortcomings of Central's physical education facilities.

A total of 30 teams are signed up in the program this quarter, and around five other squads had to be turned away because they could not be worked into the program with the time and facilities available. Approximately 290 players are now taking part in the program as it stands, with fifty or more unable to participate because of the situation.

The MIA has scheduled 144 hours of reserved playing time on the gymnasium floor for intramural games, but due to conflicts with girl's athletics, dances, and varsity athletics, all of which must be shared on the same floor, the schedule as it now stands will not be completed until March 11, 1957. At that time 135 hours will have been played with nine more left for the final playoffs. However, March 11 is the first day of test week, which means that the final playoffs will be competing with final tests . . . another headache to the MIA.

A lack of even a scoreboard in the gymnasium makes it almost impossible for a team to know what is going on in a game. Several contests so far in league action have been close affairs, with one or two points making the big difference. And the lack of a scoreboard and clock makes it impossible for either team to know what the situation is and how to adjust their play for it. The lack of room and tight scheduling also makes it mandatory that the clock continue running even through time outs, jump balls, and free throws to compensate for the heavy schedule of games.

Spectator space is another of the problems that the MIA must face but cannot do anything about. On the opening night of action there were between 150 and 200 people watching the contests from around the sidelines. As many as 70 of those spectators were different girls who dropped in occasionally to watch but tired soon from standing in the crowd. In the meantime, the 122 players who took part in the night's action were also confronted with the trouble of pushing through the crowd to get onto the playing floor, and trying to keep from injuring spectators on the sidelines while playing in the games.

All these problems stem from the same thing—inadequate facilities. They are graphic proof of our needs. It is of utmost importance that the Washington State Legislature consider our pressing problems and grant us the much needed funds we must have immediately—this year—1957.

The single game scoring record for a Wildcat hoopster was set in 1951 by Hal Jones, who tallied 41 points in one contest.

IT'S FOR REAL! by Chester Field

I'M THE WORLD'S GREATEST POET
IT'S EASY TO SEE...

From my tie to my toes, I reek poetry!
Most poets praise one lousy moon at a time
But me, I get dozens of moons in a rhyme.
If one moon's poetic, why you can just bet
A sky full of moons is poetic-er yet!

MORAL: Like a sky full of moons a Chesterfield King is out of this world, 'cause it's got everything . . .
big length, big flavor, the smoothest smoke today because it's packed more smoothly by Accu-Ray.

Like your pleasure BIG?
A Chesterfield King has Everything!

FOCUS ON CENTRAL... Students Engage In Various Activities

THE NEW CADET LOUNGE in the ROTC building furnishes a comfortable place for cadets to relax during leisure moments. The lounge was remodeled from the old orderly room and was done by the Arnold Air Society. Funds were contributed to the project by cadets throughout the entire unit, and the newly remodeled room is now complete with modern furnishings, magazine racks, and soft drink machine. Here advanced cadets Dave Carnahan and Wayne Roe take advantage of the new addition.

GEORGIA KIBLER, SECRETARY OF THE NEWLY FORMED Social Advisors Committee reads back a motion made by a committee member while the advisors and three committee members listen. This newest committee set up by the SGA will have the function of helping groups and organizations on campus plan their social events, if that help is asked for by the organization. Everett Irish and Mrs. Helen McCabe of the Central Washington College physical education department have been asked to serve as faculty advisors of the committee. Members of the committee are Mike Sweeney, freshman; Vic Olsen, senior, and also chairman; Irish; Mrs. McCabe; Miss Kibler a junior, and Shirley Willoughby, SGA secretary.

FORMAL AFTER MIDNIGHT WEAR WAS THE RAGE AT LAST FRIDAY night's all-college pajama dance in the men's gym. The couples were arrayed in all types of night clothes from plain nightshirts to brightly colored pajamas. Wilson Hall sponsored this couples-only dance and the members of the dorm are reported to be planning this event as an annual dance on the Sweezy campus. During the intermission a group of balloons was dropped from the ceiling. Some of these balloons contained a dollar bill for the couple who caught the lucky balloons. Several of the girls carried stuffed animals and sea mollusks which added to the night-time theme. Hugh Hinson and Jerry Parish acted as masters of ceremonies during the intermission.

THE NEWEST ORGANIZATION ON THE CENTRAL CAMPUS is the newly formed English club. Membership in the club is open to English and journalism majors and minors. At the organization's first meeting last Thursday evening in the faculty lounge of the CUB, a committee was formed to select a list of candidates for club officers. The club's constitution was discussed. Chairman Vera LaVesconte said that the proposed constitution is on file in the library and interested students can see it there.

STRIPES AND NUMBERS seemed to make Wilson Hall's pajama dance last Friday evening look like the Washington State Prison's hacksaw hop. Several couples went to the dance in matching pajamas and nightgowns, while others wore any type of night clothes they could find laying around the dorm.
